GARDONE RIVIERA

COMUNE DI GARDONE RIVIERA

Gardone is not only the Vittoriale of D'Annunzio or its glorious lake-side promenade. Gardone is also its hills framed with cypresses, small valleys where water rushes among maidenhair ferns, its old hamlets with sunny gardens, terraces and typical trattorias. Whilst walking through all this, you can enjoy a superb view of the lake with its ever-changing effects of light.

This guide is designed to help you discover the area around Gardone and is intended for those who wish to explore its delights and like knowing where they are and what to see.

For these reasons, nine walks have been selected. These range from 1 hour to almost a half-day.

For those called "easy", no particular training or equipment is needed. Those described as "medium-difficult" involve some hill climbing before descending back towards the lake, along country roads and paths. For these, light walking shoes are advisable. The same is necessary for those trails described as "difficult". These may climb to more than 400m., which may suit only the more energetic and fit walkers, especially in hot summer weather.

The descriptions contained in this leaflet are relatively concise, but with the help of the enclosed map and the signs along the way, it should be quite easy to find one's way.
